The Rule to Progress: Go On

Who shall enumerate the many ways in which that costly piece of fixed capital, a human being, may be employed. More of him is wanted everywhere. Hunt, then, for some situation in which your humanity may be used.

Albert Schweitzer

Two old friends hash over old times and discuss the changing present at the Association of Lutheran Secondary Schools Conference. Teachers and administrators from all over the nation gathered to participate in "the Word Happening" held at the Sheraton during the snowy month of February.

and 90% How You Take It

Progress: It's a Sign of the Times

We live in a world of questions. Is your last name spelled with two R's and one L? Am I supposed to shorten or lengthen my skirt? What are we looking for in these stupid files? Do miracles still happen? Can I ask one more question? Doesn't a winning Homecoming float make you feel so very happy? Do dedication and hard work still get the job done? Is this all really happening to me?

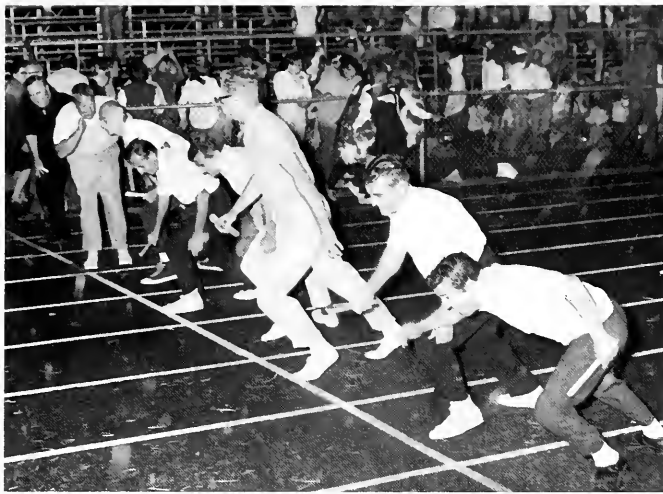

"Thank God a man can grow. He is not bound with earthward gaze to creep along the ground. Tho his beginnings be put poor and low, Thank God a man can grow.—Anonymous

Rededication Marks the Beginning of a New Year

As Master of Ceremonies, Mr. Charles Henke welcomes our football fans at the Stadium Rededication.

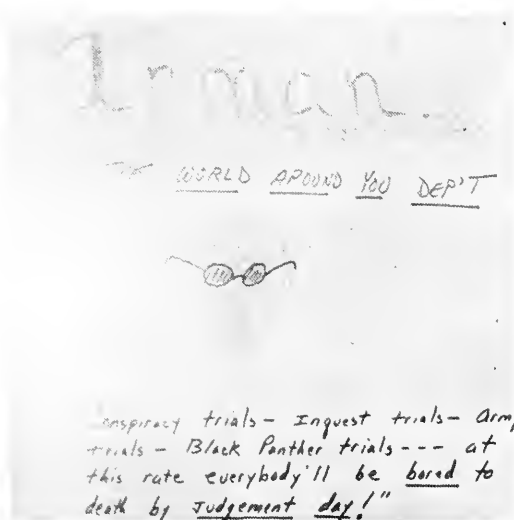

And the race is on; May the best man win!

Itching for what you want doesn't do much good; You've got to scratch for it.

Live Today, Forget The Past's Cares

Yesterday—the forgotten assignment, the word of wisdom abandoned by Arman the original thinker (He's always thinking of new ones.), the new approach to traditional spirit found in a Frank Zappa sign—is gone. Live for today—and tomorrow. It's more fun that way.

"Fly Me to the Moon" Highlights Homecoming 1969

Homecoming 1969 was again an outstanding success. The gala event began with a parade and bonfire which set the spirited mood of the evening. Float competition, court introductions, and fireworks comprised the half-time festivities tying in with the theme "Fly Me to the Moon." With the victory by the Cadets over East Noble, the evening moved to the gymnasium and the annual coronation dance. Alumni and friends gathered to watch as 1968 Homecoming Queen Patti Meyer crowned Miss Chris Bredemeyer as Homecoming Queen 1969. The queen and her court were chosen by the students and will reign here at Concordia throughout 1969 and 1970.

A tearful but very excited Queen Chris Bredemeyer ascended the balloon-shaped throne to reign supreme over a most memorable Homecoming.

Principal Herzog: CLHS Rookie of the Year

Concordia Lutheran High School is committed to Christian Education, and education that embodies and vibrates with PROGRESS. Progress is born of inquiry and inquiry leads to invention. Where else, but in a school that lives with Jesus Christ every day, that recognizes the Lord as the Maker and Preserver, that provides the Holy Spirit with the opportunity for daily renewal, can true and lasting progress be enacted. To this end the faculty, the staff, and the students must work together. But let us not forget, progress in Christian Education always involves a certain amount of risk. After all, you can't steal second base and still keep one foot on first. Let's make progress! Together!

Guenther K. Herzog, Principal

The Cadet Answermen

Got a question? Then what you need is someone to answer, advise, and lead. Leadership is the key-word for Concordia's able administration. These answermen provide both students and faculty with understanding guidance. CLHS is a well-oiled machine due largely to their efforts. At those hectic times, Cadet supervision is always an all out full time effort. The Cadet answermen keep peace at Concordia as a whole, and more important, they help each student to be at peace with himself.

Writing yet another one of his famous hall passes is our new Dean of Students Mr. Glenn Parrish.

Guidance is golden.

Faculty Flickers

"Pistol Paul" Zuehsow shows fine promise as he leads the faculty squad to another dazzling defeat.

As the stomach turns . . . Is that all there is to Monday mornings?

What poise! What posture! It's Beck-Man!

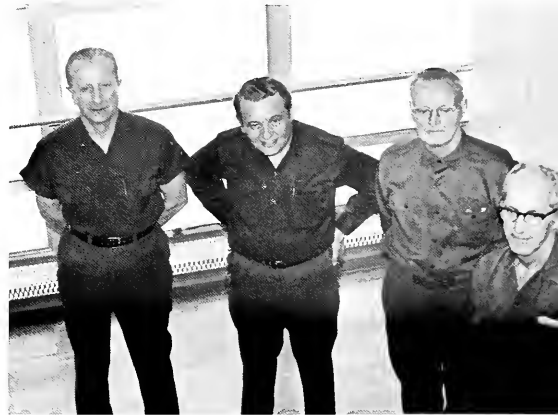

Well, how was I to know that we were supposed to wear shorts?

Although plagued by student's unanswerable questions, our sweetheart secretaries still have a smile for everyone. They are Mrs. Masentin, Mrs. Hemrik, Mrs. Roemke, and Mrs. Breininger.

Backbones Behind the Scenes

Okay kids! Do you like to eat? Eating is perhaps one of America's favorite pastimes; and where can you find better food than here in our great cafeteria? Our delicious meals are prepared by our cooks, who deserve a hearty thanks. The other lady aides at Concordia are the secretaries. These sweeties do all the dirty work here. They sort through tuition, testing, schedules, appointments, and endless paperwork. They also serve as the lost and found and the general complaint office. Rounding out the work force are the custodians. These gallent guys are the litter-bug killers and the general cleaneruppers. All day and half the night too, they sweep up, polish up, and scrub up the grease and grime the industrious student leaves behind. So, thanks for putting up with us.

Our friendly custodians, who daily wage the war on litter are: Mr. Bultemeier, Mr. Rodenbeck, Mr. Nosttrup, and Mr. Stein.

Concorida's own Betty Crockers are: Head Cook, Mrs. Hall, Mrs. Bredemeyer, Mrs. Stein, Mrs. Springer, Mrs. Kruse, Mrs. Paschka, Mrs. Dauss, and Mrs. Macke.

ACADEMICS

Find Yourself in Religion

"Today, to include religion in your life ruins your chances to be one of the gang." Typical? That certainly would seem to be the case. But here, right here at Concordia, religion has changed the lives of more than one weary soul. With the addition of new carpeting and a cork wall, Mr. Westrick's room surged into a dimension that pleases all. Suddenly, the students feel that they are what they make others and themselves. "Happiness is the end of your nose."

A slow smile of satisfaction creeps across Mr. Westrick's face.

Steve Harms finds respite from daily pressures in the relaxing atmosphere of Religion IV.

Dave begins a serious thought that leads him to a very interesting conclusion . . .

4 Years to Better English Usage

Knowledge of the English language develops chronologically and thoroughly through four years at Concordia. As the Freshman year gives the student a taste of the vast abundance of literature available, the following three years help him to develop ideas of his language and its use through the variety of courses offered within the English department. Courses range from English I to the final stage in English IV. (Seniors may best appreciate this last sentence!) Speech and developmental reading help the student to gain a firmer grip on public speaking and private reading. Communications media, offered this year for the first time, was developed for an understanding of the different levels of communication in our society.

Liz Gerke and Rose Fahlsing model the latest in 1920 women's attire for their creative projects in Mrs. Haller's Honors English class.

Lunch lingers on Bruce Bolyard's lips during fifth hour communications media class.

Mr. Kettles towers over busy junior "occupation finders"!

Mrs. Sander teaches Sophomores the importance of a good editorial.

Faculty advisors Mr. Panning and Mr. Kraemer, discuss yearbook business

BYE-NOW!!!

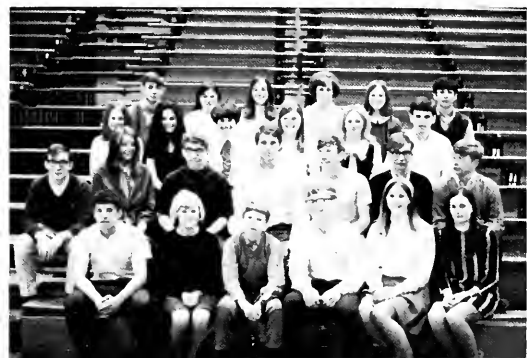

The 1969-70 Luminarian staff has been hard at work compiling the biggest and best yearbook in the history of Concordia. The yearbook, edited by Ruth Lantz under the supervision of Mr. Kenneth Kraemer, is a product of long hours of dedication, creative ideas, and Atz's ice cream cones. Summer delivery, senior fold-out, Spring activities, and additional pages are only a few of the many changes in this year's Luminarian. The staff would like to extend their hearty thanks to the many people who made this yearbook possible. Especially to Mr. Kenneth Kraemer who is relinquishing his duties as faculty advisor for the yearbook.

Creative minds at work????

Mary works on another Hot issue!!

Lu-Hi—Best Ever

Another hardworking Lu-Hi Voice staff has produced the best school paper ever. Headed by Mary Dehm—low this year's staff has spent long hours snooping for stories, gathering gossip, and reporting all the news coming from our hallowed halls. The paper which is published twelve times a year is done so under the watchful eye of Mr. Kurt Jordan. Mr. Jordan has served as faculty advisor for fourteen years. However, this year's staff has finally "run him up a tree", and he will be resigning to devote more time to other activities.

Advertising manager, B. Kiel; Photographer, T. Wolf; and Business manager, C. Henline.

Lu-Hi reporters from l. to r.: B. Kiel, C. Swartz, B. Schnorr, S. Auman, C. Stolp, E. Schroeder, V. Harwood, R. Malm, B. Von Deylen, M. Miller.

Lu-Hi Voice editors: R. Wiegman, Managing editor; L. Witte, Feature editor; K. Stelzer, News editor; C. Fruechtenicht, Asst. Feature editor; J. Davis, Sports editor; M. Dehmlow, Editor-in-chief.

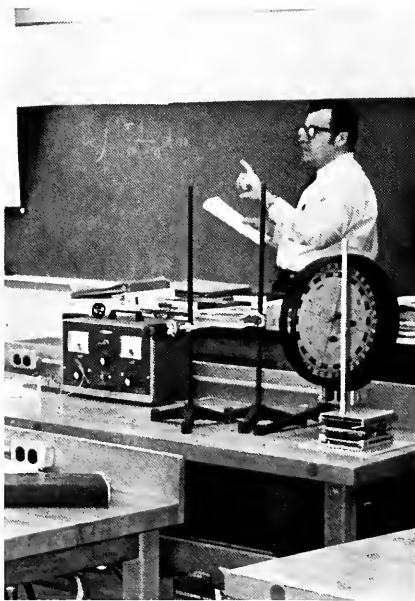

Everyone has his breaking point—right Mr. Jordan???

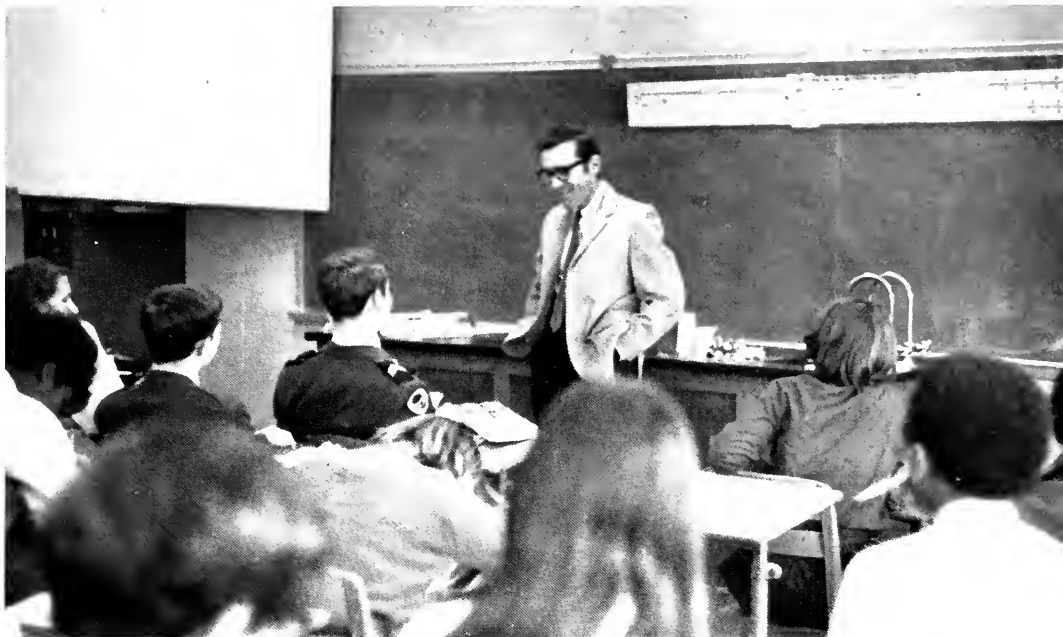

Mr. Huebschman demonstrates to his biology students the correct scientific procedure for preparing a specimen of popcorn!

The exploration into the vast and fascinating universe we live in is an unending study. Any student taking a science course this year can tell you it's far from easy. Yet for most students, the discoveries made and the new knowledge gained makes all the hard work seem almost worthwhile. And maybe through all the complicating and confusing facts and figures, we as Christian students can only marvel more at the wonder and complexity of God's creation.

The Advanced Biology class has, for the first time this year, white rats, one for each student. Here Pat Wyss gives St. Pez the loving tender care he needs.

Mr. Anderson listens patiently as K. Butts explains why his homework is not done!

Science: To Discover Is to Learn

These students seem to think Applied Science requires lots of concentration.

Hyperbolas; factoring; theorems. You can study them for hours and they still don't seem to make any sense. Concordia offers a wide range of math subjects, from General Math to Analytical Geometry. Although to some it is merely required, it is a challenge to all.

Mrs. Retrum patiently helps every student in her Geometry class.

Mathematics Offers a New Challenge Every Day

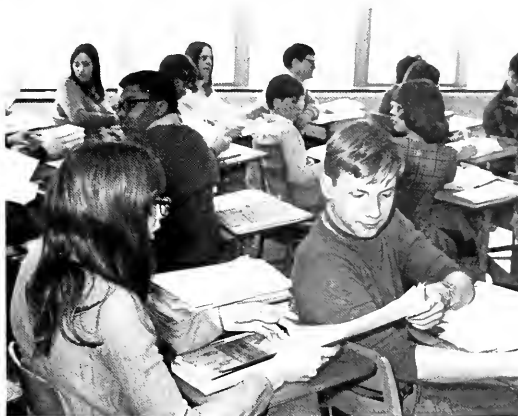

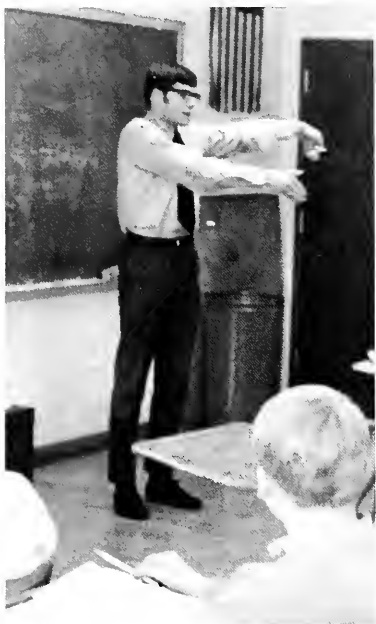

While Mr. Reinking still teaches his Geometry class the "old-fashion" way, he is experimenting with his Algebra II class. They are on independent study.

They study the chapters on their own and then take his test when they are ready. He reports that he is pleased so far with this set-up and its progress.

Is Mr. Lutz losing patience with his Algebra II class?

Mr. Mertins develops his own visual aids for his math class.

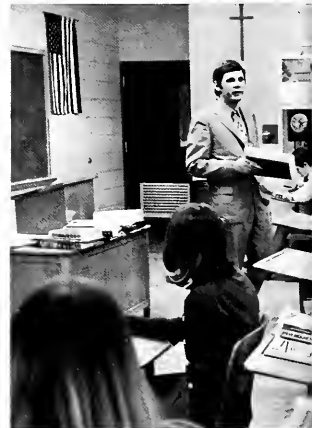

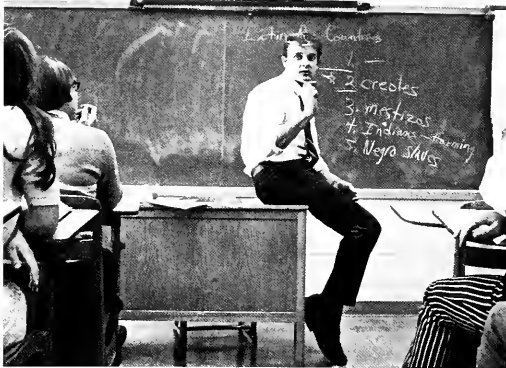

Factoring can present all kinds of problems for the Algebra teacher. Right Miss Loppnow?

Social Studies Focus on the World Around Us

Duh... where was I anyway?

Ya'll have any questions?

Miss Harrison adds a feminine touch to Government.

The area of Social Studies is a vast and interesting field involving all students. It opens up the world both physically and socially through courses such as Government, World History, U.S. History, World Geography, Geography of America, Sociology, and Economics. In those courses students learn to challenge the world around them and probe into its operations. This takes a concentrated study of man's history and behavior—a study of a social being. By becoming better acquainted with our environment we can help prepare ourselves to meet the daily challenge of tomorrow.

Mr. Baack helps Craig with his Geography.

Rick Maassel and Keith Schinnerer review some of the Russian alphabet for their instructor, Mr. Falkenstern.

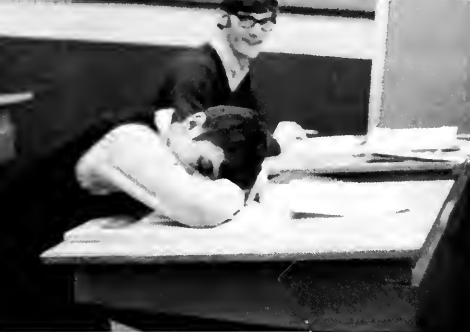

Foreign Languages

The language department progressed this year with the addition of a new teacher, Miss Lange, and a new language, Russian. Miss Lange replaced Mr. Buetow, who left Concordia to continue his studies. Mr. Falkenstern has also taken time out from his five German classes to teach a class in the Russian language. Mr. Ramm, our fluent Frenchman, is kept busy by his many French students.

The language lab provides an opportunity for all German and French students to improve their speaking fluency and comprehension through the use of headphones and audio tapes.

"We find Caesar not guilty!" The Latin class pronounces their verdict of Caesar in a classroom trial.

Jim Witzman takes time out to do some mechanical dreaming.

Projects created in shop class are displayed outside of the classroom.

A New Idea Is Worth a Try in Shop Class

Imagination in mechanical drawing and shop classes is the tool to success. With the help of Mr. Weiss, students in mechanical drawing learn to put their thoughts on paper. After the sketching is done, the class moves into the shop room and attempts to make their ideas a reality. Frequently the masterpiece ends in failure, but the knowledge and skill acquired from the project help the student in further projects. Proper use of machinery and safety precautions, drilled daily by Mr. Panning, are valuable techniques for future work.

There is no substitute for hard work and sharp tools.

New ideas can take quick form in two methods. At left, John Meyer uses the sander on a colossal wooden creation. Below, Mr. Weiss and Mr. Panning discuss the projects they can begin to keep shop and industrial arts classes alive and busy.

Choir & Swingers Always on the Move

"O happy day, Jesus washed my sins away." This was a familiar tune in many of our chapel services this year as sung by the A cappella choir. Always on the move, both the choir and Swingers have been spreading God's love and the thrills and joys of being alive to people everywhere, both young and old from right here in Ft. Wayne to places as far away as Michigan and Rockefeller Center in New York. Both groups show much pride in their work and their ever ready director, Mr. Charles Henke.

And the Band Played On, and On and On

The 1969-70 band and orchestra, both under the efficient directorship of Mr. Ray Sievert, proceeded this year in great leaps and bounds. Throughout the year both groups have participated in numerous concerts, together or separately. The spring of 1970 found the band and orchestra involved in an enormous citrus sale project. In April the band spent a week-end at Tri-City in Detroit West.

Chorus and Cadet Band Teach Fundamentals

The main purpose of both the Chorus and the Cadet Band is to prepare its members for further performances in the field of music. Under the superb guidance of Mr. Henke, the Chorus, which consists of freshmen and sophomores, learns the principles necessary to become a member of the A cappella Choir. Mr. Sievert directs the Cadet Band, whose members are eager to develop the fundamentals required to join the Varsity Band.

Art Students Create and Express Their Own Ideas

The ability to express one's own idea in the form of a painting, sculpture, or design is the goal of all successful art students. The beginner in art is helped and advised in the basic techniques by Mr. Heinrich, the successful, new art teacher. From there he uses his imagination to create his own projects. In advanced art, emphasis is placed on planning and executing more complex work over a longer period of time.

Paper mache projects are the main interests of these girls.

Military Undergoes

The purpose of the military program at Concordia has always been to make each Cadet a better person in later life. By learning the basic military skills, he obtains the qualities of leadership, discipline, patriotism, and good citizenship.

This year many changes took place in military in hopes of creating a better program in the future. The tradition of one instructor was broken when Sgt. Miller came to assist Capt. Clendenen in his work. At the start of the second semester, a popular new rule went into effect making it necessary to wear the military uniform only twice a week instead of four times. The promotion system also underwent a complete change to make it fairer for all.

What Do You Get When You Take Phys. Ed???

My! I didn't know I had a hangnail on my left big toe!

What do ya get when ya take phys. ed.? Ya get enough strength to move a mountain; after ya do, ya drink a fountain . . . I'd love to take phys. ed. again: Mrs. Obermueller, code-named Mrs. "O," taught this little jingle to all the young, aspiring gals in each one of her classes. This jingle, plus an awful lot of "back-breaking" work by teacher, assistants, and students, makes for an A-1 girls' physical education program here at Concordia.

Mrs. O sometimes finds herself flooded with paperwork, but it's all worth it.

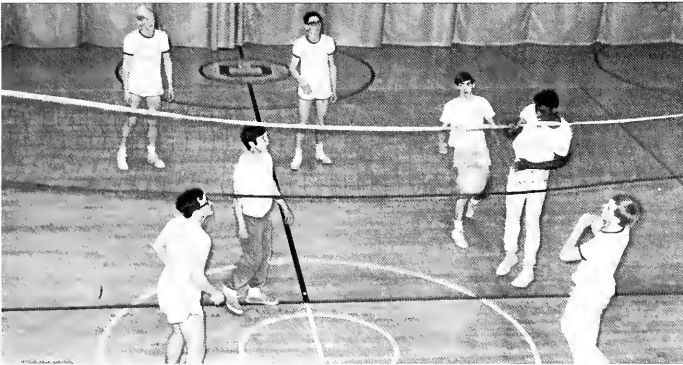

Michelle, what goes up must eventually come down.

Ain't this the life!

Why do great men do great things? Think about it . . . the answer is easy. Great men do great things because they take phys. ed. And . . . what makes these great men even greater is the fact that they are guided and helped by the tough but gentle hand of Mr. Massucci and Mr. Hoffman. Concordians, relax. Have no fear, there are great men here!

Don't touch it, it's a hot grapefruit!

Home Ec: For Careers—in the Home

Our future homemakers must begin somewhere, you know. What better place than in the capable, experienced hands of CLHS's proud home ec teachers Mrs. Roop and Mrs. Haller. Included in the home ec courses are basic skills such as sewing and cooking. An educational program in home management is an important course, delving more into the establishing and running of a Christian home. Covered in this course are such activities as home decorating, child care, and meal planning. Led by their enthusiastic teachers, CLHS girls really do plan for careers—in the home.

Between classes, home ec teachers Mrs. Roop and Mrs. Haller discuss the qualities of a student's fabric.

Gridiron Squad Builds for Future

Despite losses from graduation and a general lack of experienced players, Concordia's football squad still maintained its spirit and drive. Being led by co-captains Jim Witzenman and Bob Kaiser, the team compiled a record of 2 wins, 7 losses, and 1 tie. The Most Valuable Players, voted upon by their teammates were: Furman Manley, offensive back; Jim Witzenman, defensive back; Bob Kaiser, offensive lineman; and, Jack Florent, defensive lineman. With the underclassmen gaining much experience and having one of the best freshmen teams ever, our future on the gridiron looks quite promising.

Tennis Team Fights to Achieve Best Season Ever

Seasoned with experience, determined to win, and capable of doing just that, Concordia's netmen proved to be one of the tennis powerhouses in this area. The season began in mid-August under the guidance of Mr. Ramm and ended one chilly day in October with a fifth place finish in the State finals. In between the tennis team won an overwhelming victory in the South Side Doubles with both teams of Bruce Bolyard—Steve Widenhofer and Gene Scheumann—Tony Wolf winning their divisions. They also placed second in city competition with a sparkling 10-1 record before winning another second in sectional and a third in regional play.

Cagers Cap Season with Sectional Finale

John grabs another big rebound.

Although the basketball team suffered an opening season loss to Huntington, the team came back the following weekend with decisive victories over the Belmont Braves and the New Haven Bulldogs. Midway through the season however, the Cadet cagers suffered a loss when all-city guard Bruce Bolyard was put out of action for five weeks with a broken hand. Following an eight game losing streak, the netmen never lost confidence and salvaged a few late season victories including a 98-64 decision over the Angola Hornets, which was two points away from the all-time scoring record for Concordia. The Cadet squad continued to surprise everyone when they overcame South Side and Leo, before bowing to Central in the finale of Sectional 2.

Ya Gotta

It takes a special kind of athlete to be a Cadet wrestler. Hours of work, sweat, and sacrifice lie behind each moment of glory. CLHS grapplers are well-known and respected for their never-give-up determination. The heart of the squad is, of course, Coach "Wild Bill" Ihssen. Mr. Ihssen tells his wrestlers to put more emphasis on doing their best rather than just winning. This year the team displayed both with spirited drive. A junior with great potential, Bob Sommer, was voted Most Valuable Player by his fellow teammates. Captain Jim Marks closed his high school career by valiantly representing Concordia at Regionals.

Under a new coach, Mr. Eckrich, the golf team compiled a commendable 6-9 record. They finished the season with a fifth place sectional finish out of twenty teams. Baseball Team Wins City Title During Good Year

Bruce Berning winds up to throw a curve ball.

Bruce Bolyard delivers a fastball to the waiting hitter.

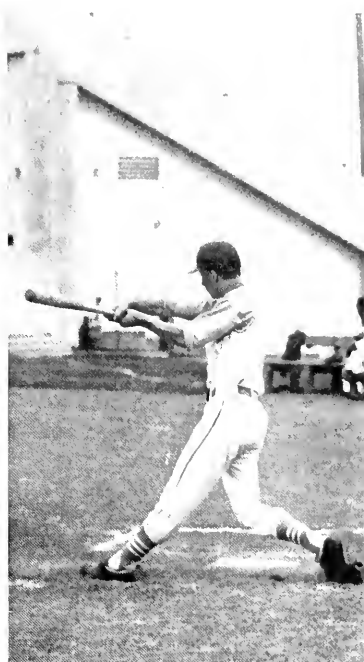

Directed by coaches Massucci and Anderson, the baseball team once again had a winning season, compiling a very good 10-4 regular season record. They captured the city championship by soundly defeating Central Catholic twice. Consistent performers for the team were Bruce Bolyard, the leading hitter and pitcher, Bruce Berning, and Barry Light. Hopes of repeating as a state finalist were killed when Heritage nipped the Cadets by a 2-1 score in the sectional.

Underclassmen Spark Cross Country Team

The cross country team compiled a very commendable record this year, despite the fact that there were no seniors on the team. With a lot of hard practice, determination, and guidance from Mr. Reinking, the harriers were able to successfully complete the rugged two mile course in excellent times. By the end of the year, they were molded into a sound team and finished fifth in the conference and seventh in the sectional out of twenty teams. Because all the boys will be returning next year, the future looks extremely bright for the cross country team.

Track Squad Sends Three Cindermen to State

The sights and sounds of pounding feet, the starter's gun, the agonizing hours of trying to perfect hurdle form, and the cheering crowds at a photo finish relay are all signs that track season has arrived. This year our track team had one of its best seasons ever. Under the very able coaching staff headed by Coach Goeglein, the team members worked hard and gave that extra effort—that makes the difference between victory and defeat. Several new records were set this season, including: Phil Zimmermann—100 yard dash, Bruce Bolyard—low hurdles, Dave Breininger—shot put, and Phil Zimmermann, Furman Manley, Dan Hogue, and Bruce Bolyard—half-mile relay. Also three cadets made it to the state finals at Indianapolis; Dave Breininger, capturing second place in the shot put, Bruce Bolyard placing fourth in the hurdles and Phil Zimmermann in the 100 and 220 yard dashes.

Phil Zimmermann rounds last curve on his way to victory.

Bruce Bolyard lunges over last hurdle to nudge out opponent.

Hard work pays off for Dave Breininger as he places second in state shot put.

Furman Manley nips opponent at finish line.

Project a Good Year

This year's Student Council and its leaders have done much to make the 1969-70 school year the best possible. One new addition to the school was the lounge furniture. The council has a Japanese orphan that it adopted and sent money to every month. Other money making projects were the California Cuties game, the Shopper's Guide program, and giving aid to an Indian reservation. Chapel collections were also taken for needy people and organizations in the area. The council is made up of three boards: Executive Board, Voting Board, and Honorary Board.

The members of the Voting Board are as follows: Front to back, ROW 1— R. Finner, S. Hower, C. Rice, D. Reichart, D. Bishton, J. Lohman, G. Scheumann, J. Dinkel; ROW 2— N. Schorey, J. Kiefer, J. Gamma Rho—Know How to Go

Gamma Rho really do know how to go! Go where you ask? Where else, but to the wonderful world of Shakespeare and Shelley. Always discovering new areas of interest for their members are the officers. The officers this year are Barb Klotz, president; Henry Witte, vice-president; Mayo Kanning, secretary; Debbie Widenhofer, treasurer. With their help, Gamma Rho has had a good year of initiations, play going, and a lot of fun.

Actors' Workshop: "The Real Thing!"

This year something new in the field of drama has come to Concordia. Mr. Kettles has opened up the minds and feelings of many students by starting the Actor's Workshop. About 25 members actively participate by "working out" and "getting into" the improvisations and short dramatic sessions.

Mr. Kettles' has had a real hard day.

Organized officers have been the backbone of the religion club this year.

Whew! A busy year for the Religion club has meant all kinds of good results for our school and community. A major reason for such good results were this year's officers who have been really on the ball. Arlene Scheiman, president; Peggy Savage, vice-president; Sharon Montz, secretary; and John Denninger, treasurer, have been a big help to the club. Some of their activities have included their yearly project of binding the hymnbooks and visiting people at the Parnell Park Nursing Home. Concordia has a lot of good reasons to be proud of this club and their activities.

Keep the Faith!

Members of the religion club this year include: Peggy Savage, Arlene Scheiman, John Denninger, Jeanne Burger, Cindy Boehm, Glen Scherer, Barb Klotz, Margaret Beltz, Fred Fritcha, Timothy Knapp, Sue Boger, and of course, "good ole" Pastor Tremain.

Language Clubs: Fun Side of French and Latin

Our language clubs are an active part of the language student's life. A not-so-dead Latin club, with sponsor Miss Lange, has managed to involve all of its ever-increasing membership in several activities, including the popular Latin banquet and a fabulous trip to Rome, for seven lucky students and their advisor. Our romantic group, the French club, though small, still enjoys an active, friendly participation in extracurricular involvement.

Rome Trip—Latin Banquet Highlight Year

Latin club has always been one of CLHS's most active groups. This year, however, the new sponsor tried a really different idea. Care for a trip to Rome, anyone? Rome, with its ancient bridges, its mighty Colosseum, the Eternal City. That's where Miss Lange and seven lucky students traveled, despite tied-up passports and particular planes. The exciting trip took place during spring vacation, and created lasting memories in the minds of our tourists. Another gala affair, the annual Latin Club banquet, was a successful highlight which ended a very rewarding year.

Sophomores Randi Settle, Janeen Hoffman, and freshmen Dave Stelzer and Randy Young show a souvenir from the Eternal City.

Preparing for the unique Latin club banquet takes some time. Those togas sure are confusing, right?

Miss Loppnov's Biology Club "jumps" at the opportunity to dissect anything. These students explore beyond the assigned classroom material. The hours spent after school expand their knowl-

Bio and Rocket Clubs Probe into Our Atmosphere

5-4-3-2-1 BLAST OFF! Another UFO soars up, up, and away from the launch pad of the Model Rocket Club. Under the guidance of Mr. Anderson (and with the help of his car battery) rockets of all shapes and sizes leave the stadium to be recovered in distant hiding places. Woe unto this club the day it hits a low flying plane!

Amateur Radio Club

Starts Small but Progresses

The Amateur Radio Club, under the guidance of Mr. Zuehsow, meets every Tuesday and Thursday to learn about radio communications.

Although the Amateur Radio Club was just begun this year and is the smallest club at Concordia, it has proved to be very educational for those interested in radio communications. Mr. Zuehsow teaches the members Morse code, and the members in turn teach each other. They also can communicate with students from other schools through a specially established frequency. If a member has faithfully learned the code, he can be tested on it and receive a novice license from the Federal Communications Commission by the end of the year.

New Photography Club Shows Promise for Future

Everyone wants pictures that are clear and in focus, so a small group of boys decided to start a club to help students improve their picture-taking and learn more about the art of photography.

To become a member of the Photography Club you do not have to be experienced at taking pictures or even own a camera (although it does help). All you need is plenty of ambition to attend meetings and the desire to work as a club at taking pictures. Although the pictures do not always turn out, the members have a good time taking them and the experience gained will help them as future photographers.

In addition to taking prints, the Photography Club also attempts to make movies together. The members of this club are Marty Werling, Jim Moehring, Henry Franklin, Bill Swain, John Knoblauch, Bob Brooks, and Dave Wyss.

Artistic Students Devote Time & Talent to Art Club

Jill Davis is a very dedicated member of the Art Club, lending a helping hand and offering service when needed. She is pictured above working on the centerpieces for the Prom, which she designed and constructed herself. Jill is also the leader of the club, serving as president. The decorations and theme for the Christmas Dance were also designed by Jill Davis.

Concordia's Art Club, small but mighty, is perhaps one of the most active clubs in the school. This year they kindly decorated for the Christmas Dance and the Junior-Senior Prom. They sponsored a booth for the Student Council Sadie Hawkin's Dance, where they sold marriage licenses. The faculty sponsor for the club is Mr. Milton Heinrich, the art teacher at Concordia. Although new to the job he is an interested and enthusiastic leader for the club. The talent and artistic ability of the club is indeed an asset to Concordia.

The Art Club officers: Nathan Tews, treasurer; Jill Davis, president; Kathy Ramsey, vice-president; Bek Haas, secretary; Mr. Heinrich, advisor.

Drama Club members individually are nothing. But, when the advisers organize them into a single unit they become a force terrible to behold. l. to r.—Mr. Hinkle, D. Benecke, Mr. Kettles, M. Rodenbeck, S. Zirzow, K. Young, R. Settle, M. Wehrenberg, K. Stelzer, J. Davis, R. Fahlsing, A.

Lights—Action—Drama Club!

There's no business like show business! But, being a member of the CLHS drama club isn't all a bowl of cast parties. They are not only in the spotlight but also knee-deep in dirty work. These are the 3A.M. set painters; the last second costume menders; the makeup smearers and the errand boys. The drama club species migrates in ever-swelling herds to the stage. Zoli's saw the Cadet thespians begin a 3 month hibernation at the clubs' annual banquet.

Rallying around a particularly rock are the intensely dramatic officers l. to r.—Vice Pres Bill Bussing, Set Chair. Dan Bishton, President Jack Davis, Treasurer Marty Wehrenberg, Secretary Carla Fruechtenicht, Makeup Chair. Deb Holt, and Publicity Chair. Steve Auman.

This year's Junior Red Cross is led by Nan Mahlock, Vice-President, Lois Rinaker, President, Debby Macke, Secretary and Signa Conner, Treasurer.

JRC & Y-Teens Active at CLHS

It doesn't take anything special to be a member of the Junior Red Cross, just a little Christian love. Both boys and girls take an active part in the club. In May they will be taking a trip to Chicago for a day. The Y-Teens is also an active group. It's open to any girl who likes to work on projects for the community.

J.R.C. officers L. Rinaker and N. Mahlock work on an upcoming project.

The Y-Teens are headed by Tootie Messman, Secretary, Debby Buchan, Treasurer, Cheryl Stolp, President, and Jill Parmalee, Vice-President.

Lettermen & Key Clubs, Assets to Sports at CLHS

The Letterman's Club and Key Club are Concordia's two sports clubs for guys. Each year membership grows larger and larger which shows more participation in Varsity sports and an interest in helping out at extra curricular activities. Coaches Mr. Hoffman and Mr. Howard help out at the coat check.

The Letterman's Club consists of all letter sweater and letter jacket winners.

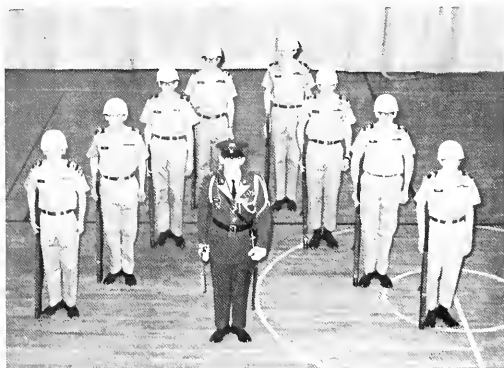

These fearsome five are our Key Club. They are: ROW 1—S. Priebe, T. Wolf, M. Hesterman. ROW 2—J. Dinkel and J. Lohman.

Military training at Concordia is not limited to the classroom. For those cadets who are interested in learning more than the basic military skills, there are quite a number of military clubs in which to participate.

The Officers' Club keeps the military organization running smoothly throughout the year.

The pride of our military department is the Snap Squad led by Capt. Paul Leinhos. They gave several exhibitions during the halftime of basketball games.

Precision Drill this year was under the direction of Capt. Tom Pruesse.

The Girls' Drill Team led by Cecilia Miller showed proficiency during their performances this year.

We Got the Fever We're

Hysterical laughing, mobbing an ecstatic team, and screaming boom-chicka-boom are all symptoms of Cadet fever. Spreading Cadet fever is not a job for the chicken-hearted; it takes real know how and germ-spreading dedication. Cheerleaders often act as "the spoonful of sugar that helps the medicine go down." They help even the most befuddled Cadet to get high on the fever. Caution: acute Cadet fever may be hazardous to your serenity, and there's no turning back when the fever strikes. So go ahead and burn . . . and the heat'll go on!

Twirlers: Our Belles with Batons

Seventy-six trombones led the big parade . . . but did you know that Concordia's nine twirlers followed closely behind? The 1969-70 twirlers are composed of six varsity, all of whom are juniors, and three reserve, who are also juniors. These gallant, gorgeous gals brave the winter cold and fight the good fight all year round. You've got to give them credit, 'cause here's where you've read it. The twirlers have the zest . . . that makes them the best!

Head twirler Terri Morrill led the varsity twirlers to a successful, rewarding year.

Just relaxing.

Juniors find the library to be a good place to work on occupational reports.

The library can also be a place of relaxation.

"What do you mean, it's signed the Green Phantom?"

A quiet place to study, some needed reference material for a term paper, or a couple of magazines to read for enjoyment are some of the extras that the library provides for Concordians. With the help of student workers, Mr. Pasche and Mrs. Sauerteig once again did a fine job of smoothly running the library.

At the bookstore, cheerful student workers gladly supply each student with everything needed for schoolwork. When a Cadet mislays a book, needs some pencils or pens, or wants to buy some paperback classics, he naturally goes to the bookstore and usually finds what he wants.

Curtain Call

"Mouse on the Moon", Concordia's lighthearted fall comedy, launched the 69-70 thespian season. Director Graves oversaw the humorous "space race", "The Miracle Worker" without a doubt was the best dramatic production ever at CLHS. In Mr. Kettle's shaping hands, the cast worked a real miracle of inspiration. The glowing light present in everyone involved was readily transmitted to the audience. A successful production means late hours, and many prayers; a telegram, and hearty wishes to "break a leg". Satisfaction comes only through personal sacrifice. And for what?! To brighten a heart, to teach a lesson, to touch a soul.

Jack Davis, and his leading lady Madelyn lead the cast of Mouse on the Moon in their final curtain call.

The Cadets again waged the annual battle against the Redskins in the canoe race down the St. Joseph River. The race, held on May 26 this year, was again lost to North Side, although not without a fight. Well, Class of '71 . . . maybe next year!

"Moonlight & Mistletoe" Captivated Pmas Mood

Concordia's Christmas Dance was held in the gymnasium on December 20 this year. The theme, "Moonlight and Mistletoe", was submitted by Miss Jill Davis, who also designed the decor. One end of the room was decorated as a house, with mistletoe hanging from the ceiling. The door at the far end of the house opened onto the dancing area. This section was decked in flocked trees and paper snowflakes. Music for the evening was provided by Don Brown and his orchestra. The Art Service Club and the members of the Student Council worked to make it a very enjoyable evening for all.

The front door of the house opened onto the dance floor.

Snow-frosted windows provided a view of the dance floor from inside the house.

Officers' Ball Provides Evening of Enjoyment

On May 3, the annual Officers' Ball was held at the Chamber of Commerce. The fun-filled evening began with a social hour, followed by the traditional formal dinner and a stimulating talk by Mr. Earl Westrick. Following dinner, the Junior and Senior officers presented tokens of their appreciation to Sergeant Miller and Captain Clendenin for their excellent leadership during the year. Lieutenant Colonel Dave Hitzeman was Master of Ceremonies. The Cadets and their dates concluded the evening with dancing.

Junior officer Neil Frame presents the officers' gift of a sabre to the Captain.

A Time for Us—

Breaking a trend this year, Concordia held its annual Junior-Senior Prom on May 22, 1970 at the Lantern. Music for the formal affair was provided by Dick Quigley and the Sophisticates. The decorations were simple, featuring hourglasses as the centerpieces, which were made by Jill Davis and the Art Club. The centerpieces were to carry out the theme of "A Time For Us." Following the Prom, the After-Prom was held at Goeglein's Kerchavel Reserve from 1:00 A.M. to 3:00 A.M. Everyone relaxed and danced to the swinging music of the Bittersweet and Honey.

Cadets of all kinds have a fun-filled evening.

Seniors Meet Graduation

with Mixed Emotions

Seniors worship and commune for the last time with the student body.

Fear the Lord, thy God, serve Him and swear by His name. Deut. 6:13

Final Worship Service

Provides Inspiration for All

Members of the A Cappella choir join in singing a final tribute to our God.

Ye are a chosen generation, that ye show forth His praises.
1 Peter 2:9

Baccalaureate—a Last Step Toward Graduation

Events, dances, banquets, pep sessions, assemblies, grade

cards, chapel services, games—all crowd the year of busy Cadets. Most of these events are the grand finale for Seniors, that pave the way to Graduation, the final chapter of our high school career. These past four years have been good for us and none of us will ever forget Concordia and its people and what they've done to prepare us for what lies ahead. By learning through doing, by taking part in the life of our school, we, as Seniors, have gained the qualities of service, character, leadership, and scholarship to serve us as alumni.

Places everybody! Seniors line up and get ready to process for the First Annual Baccalaureate Service on May 31, 1970.

This year, for the first time, an all high school Baccalaureate service was held at the Concordia Senior College.

The Reverend Dr. Oswald Hoffman, Lutheran Hour Speaker, gives the sermon for the Graduates and their families and friends.

A Flip of the Tassel & 4 Yrs. Come to an End

Class president Bob Dieckman leads Mighty 70 in the traditional toss.

Bruce Bultemeier receives his diploma from Wayne Roesener.

The Reverend Edgar Rakow gives the Commencement Address.

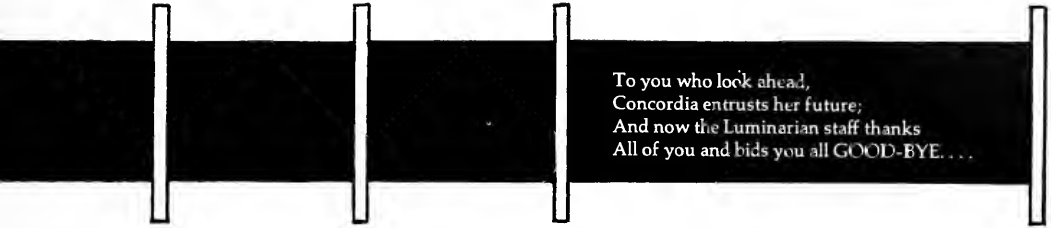

The Spirited class of 70 sits together for the last time.

Margaret Beltz gives her half of the Co-Salutatorian welcome.

We leave behind many memories and look ahead to a future full of new experiences.

To you who look ahead,
Concordia entrusts her future;
And now the Luminarian staff thanks
All of you and bids you all GOOD-BYE. . . .
